

Last reviewed May 2021

DBC Data Privacy Policy - Website

Dundonald Baptist Church is a member of the Association of Baptist Churches in Ireland.

Your privacy is important to us and this Website Data Privacy Policy sets out how we collect, handle, and keep secure your personal information and your rights regarding this.

We do not sell or trade email lists or any other personal data with other organisations.

We do not use cookies to collect any personal data while you are using this site. We do not use third party cookies however if you follow any links to other sites they will have their own privacy policy that you should read before using the site.

We do not collect data for analytics.

If you contact us through our website we will only use the data you provide to contact you in relation to your enquiry having provided your consent to meet your legitimate interests.

Any personal data you provide through the contact email provided will be processed according to the UK Data Protection Act 2018 and in line with our Data Protection Policy. We will take all reasonable precautions to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of your personal information.

Any personal data you provide through the contact email will be erased once the reason for supplying it has ceased.

We may disclose information about you to any of our employees or office-bearers insofar as is reasonably necessary for the fulfilment of your request. We will not provide your information to third parties.

In addition, we may disclose your personal information:

- to the extent that we are required to do so by law;
- in connection with any legal proceedings or prospective legal proceedings;
- in order to establish, exercise or defend our legal and to any person who we reasonably believe may apply to a court or other competent authority for disclosure of that personal information where, in our reasonable opinion, such court or authority would be reasonably likely to order disclosure of that personal information.

Under Data Protection legislation, you have the right to request access to information about you that we hold. To make a request for your personal information, contact webmaster@dundonldbaptstchurch.org

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress;
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing;
- object to decisions being taken by automated means;
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed;
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations.

Last reviewed May 2021

For further information on how your information is used, how we maintain the security of your information and your rights to access information we hold on you please contact webmaster@dundonaldbaptstchurch.org

We may update this privacy policy from time-to-time by posting a new version on our website.

You should check this page occasionally to ensure you are happy with any changes.

You may contact us at any time if you have any questions about this privacy policy or our treatment of your personal information by emailing webmaster@dundonaldbaptstchurch.org

You have the right to complain to the ICO if you are unhappy about how we handle your data. <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>